SCHRIVER'S CORN.

The Seidl Concert.—A belated train delay-ed the opening of the concert by the Seidl Orichestra at Metzerott Music Hall last night until 9 o'clock, but the large and fashionable audience waited patiently, and when the program was concluded, were fully satisfied with the entertainment furnished. Interest centered in the performance of the new overture, "Nature," by Anton Dvorak, which was heard for the first time in this city, and the work of the orchestra showed that Mr. Seidl was in full sympathy with the great Norwegian composer. The Wagner numbers were given with that power and intelligent comprehension for which Mr. Seidl is noted. Anton Dvorak, which was heard for the first time in this city, and the work of the orchestra showed that Mr. Seid! was in full sympathy with the great Norwegian composer. The Wagner numbers were given with that power and intelligent comprehension for which Mr. Seid! is noted. That the Wagnerian spirit dominates Mr. Seid! and colors his work was demonstrated in his orchestration of the four numbers of Bach's "Divertimento," wherein the suggestions were more of Seid! and Wagner than of Bach. Mozart's symphony, in G minor, which is quite familiar to musicians and concert goers here, completed the program, and, although it has been played here in a more satisfactory manner, was heard with pleasure. As a whole, the concert was extremely enjoyable, and the hope is expressed that next season Mr. Seid! may give a regular series of concerts here.

Academy of Music.—"Faust" was given a Academy of Music.-"Faust" was given a

Academy of Music.—"Faust" was given a splendid interpretation by the Tavary Opera Company last night, and the large audience was enthusiastic in its applause. Madame Tavary was seen to excellent advantage as Marguerite, singing with that clearness of tone and artistic finish that has placed her in the front rank of English opera singers, and acting with a delicacy and spirit that was worthy of high commendation. Guille, in the title role, electrified his audience by both his singing and acting. The remainder of the cast filled all the requirements satisfactorily. Tonight "Tannhaeuser" will be given.

Kernan's Lyceum Theater—A power.

Kernan's Lyceum Theater.—A number of people went to Kernan's last evening to see "Capt. Jack" Hensley of this city box four rounds with Stanton Abbott of the company now playing there, but long before the time for the first round to close W. H. Keister, it opposite center market.

Tou Won't Be Dyed

Tou Won't Be Dyed

The delay of the first round to close all the fight was out of him. The offer of $25$, made by the management to any one who would last four rounds with Abbott, looked very tempting, but Hensley lost all sight of everything, except getting home, in the middle of the second round. Charley Holcomb will make an attempt to get the $25$. He has the advantage of size over Abbott and may make way with the money.

money. The Burnt Cork Club.-The entertainmen given before a crowded house by the Burnt for wear it. cmh29-10d given before a crowded house by the Burnt Cork Club at Odd Fellows' Hall last even-ing was very successful. After the over-ture by the orchestra, the program was opened by a farce sketch, "The Mischlevous Monkey," In which Howard A. Graham took the part of Hirum Rum; John A. Graham the character of the landlord, and Harry Shackelford was the monkey. The sketch was rendered in a manner that kept the audience in a state of merriment. The next number was a barytone solo by Byron Bond, followed by the country band of members of the club. Tom Gately gave scme good comic songs, after which the well-known banjoist, Steve Clements, played a solo, and was obliged to respond to a hearty encore. The musical act by the Graham brothers not only kept the audience laughing all the time, but also rendered some very good music. The Del Ray brothers gave a fine exhibition of tumbling. The Midway Beauties were personated by Howard and Leigh, and their contortions were very good. The last number on the program was a dancing contest, for which a gold medal was offered by the club for the best rendition of the Sallor's Hornpipe. Masters McDermott and Chapman were judged to have been the best, and they were awarded the medal. After the program dancing was indulged in until a very late hour.

For the Maine Society.—John P. Clum is to lecture tenight at the Universalist Church, under the auspices of the Maine Society, on the "Worderland of America," illustrating his talk with over two hundred fine stereopticon pictures. Mr. Clum is a very interesting speaker, and as he has had considerable personal experience with all the scenes which he depicts, and has some very graphic and thrilling stories to tell of this wild and beautiful country, the lecture will be of more than the usual amount of interest. A tour of a year will thus be brought before the hearer's eye and mind without even the trouble of going to the depot.

Stavenhagen-Gerardy.—The attraction at Metzerott Music Hall tonight is Mr. Bernard Stavenhagen, the planist, and Jenn Gerardy, the wonderful young violoncellist. Both these performers are known in Washington, on account of their former visit, and all are acquainted with the excellent music which they render. Gerardy's playing is exquisite. Full of expression and force, his work captivates the audience at once, and his efforts are always received with the heartiest kind of approval. Stavenhagen's work on the piano is artistic and forceful, and his style and depth of feeling is fully up to the standard.

The Sagngerhund's Concert—The part

The Saengerbund's Concert.-The next The Saengerbund's Concert.—The next concert by the Washington Saengerbund Sunday evening next promises to be a great success. It is to take place at the Academy of Music, and the tickets are now seiling at quite a speedy rate. The two soloists are Miss Alice Burbage and Miss Albrecht of Baltimore. Miss Burbage needs no introduction to a Washington audience as a pinnist of rare merit have audience as a planist of rare merit, hav andence as a planist of rare merit, having played here on many occasions, and while Miss Albrecht is perhaps not so well known, yet she comes with a good reputation. The singers will be assisted by the Saengerbund orchestra, and the whole will be under the direction of Prof. Wm. Waldecker.

A Talk on "Teeth."—The Young Men's Christian Association of 1409 New York avenue northwest will have a very interest-ing talk tonight at 8 o'clock, given by Mr. F. A. Lucas of the United States National Museum, who will tell what knowledge he has gained at the museum in his study of "Teeth." This will be in the regular course of perior talks given by the Y. M. C. A. and promises to be very instructive.

New National Theater.—Mr. Sothern appeared last night in "Captain Letterblair" at the New National Theater, his efforts meeting with the appreciation which they find as a rule. The cast appeared to advantage, and the performance was, on the whole, more satisfactory than "A Way to Win a Woman," despite the advantage of novelty which the latter possesses.

Epidemic of Incendiarism

Firebugs are becoming numerous since the attempt was made to burn St. Dominic's and St. Patrick's churches. A barber shop in South Washington was set on fire and later a bold attempt was made to fire St. Mary's School. Last night an attempt was made to burn the vacant house of Frank E. Buckland, 1848 5th street northwest. When the fire was discovered the flames had not made much headway, but hames had not made much headway, but before they were extinguished damage to the extent of $300 was done. The house had been set on fire in two places. The incendiary had entered through the rear window and had started a fire in a closet on the third floor, as well as on the floor of the second-story front room. The case is being investigated by the police.
